FROM THE DESK OF FATHER DAVIS

This weekend our readings present us with inspirations that help us appreciate and savor the “Word of the Lord.” The biblical Psalmist, for example, says “your words are spirit and life.” Likewise, the Gospel describes the scene at Nazareth of the synagogue service, which was the historical precursor to our very own “Liturgy of the Word” at Mass. Luke’s Gospel describes that, after reading from the scroll of Sacred Scripture, Jesus sat down and said, “today, this Scripture passage is fulfilled in your hearing.” He proceeded to give a “homily.”

At every liturgy, it is extremely important for us to immerse ourselves in the “spirit and life” that flow from God’s efficacious Word in Holy Scripture. To do so effectively, we must listen with reverent attention, and ask of ourselves: “what is God trying to say to us in this passage? What is God trying to say to me today, so that my life may be enriched by his holy inspirations and wisdom?” Indeed, the entire first part of the Mass is all about “the Word” and its meaning for our lives. Let us, therefore, lend our ears to his saving Word and make of our hearts a ready welcome for it.

Each weekend is a golden opportunity to have our minds and hearts lifted to a higher and sublime encounter with the transformative Word of God. Our Liturgy of the Word begins with a selection from the Hebrew Scriptures, the “Old Testament.” There is nothing old and outdated about it. It is filled with the timeless script of God’s encounter with his people and his plan for their salvation. The First Reading is followed by a sung Responsorial Psalm. To sing, as Saint Augustine once said, is “to pray twice.” The Psalm and its value is not to be missed! It should be listened to, prayed, and sung well. It will help dispose us to our Second Reading, taken from the Christian Scriptures, the “New Testament.” Normally taken from the Pauline or Pastoral Epistles, the Second Reading is an exhortation to the early Christian community regarding the lived experience of the Christian life. The teachings they contain are very instructive to our daily walk as followers of Jesus. They educate, clarify, and challenge us in our pilgrimage of faith. Following the Gospel acclamation, often the “Alleluia,” we stand to acknowledge the unique presence of Christ in the proclaimed Gospel of our salvation. From this foundational source, we learn of the life of Jesus and his direct words and example. God speaking to men and women in the words of men or women, enabling us to hear and understand God’s plan for us, and how our lives are to be grounded in God, and lead us closer to God, even for all eternity. No wonder we conclude the reading of the Gospel by saying, “praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ!”

We, Catholics, greatly treasure the privilege of highlighting God’s Word at each Holy Mass. The entire first half of our sacred rites is dedicated to the Scriptural Word of God. Why? Because just as Jesus is the Word made flesh, we also believe that in Scripture we have the Word made text. Its power to inspire, change and transform us, and usher in our salvation is efficacious and ever new. God’s Word will never be exhausted, no matter how many times we hear it. It always brings to us “spirit and life.”

It all points to Jesus as the fulfillment of God’s plan for the life of the world. When we hear his Word with reverence and attention, and act on it, we are allowing it to inculcate itself in us. We are supposed to take it with us in our daily living. We can almost hear Jesus say directly to us, “if you hear my words and keep them faithfully, you will be my disciples, bright for all to see.” This might even be part of the “fulfillment” about which Jesus speaks. May we, therefore, find fulfillment in Christ and His Word.

DEL ESCRITORIO DEL PADRE DAVIS

Este fin de semana, nuestras lecturas nos presentan inspiraciones que nos ayudan a apreciar la "Palabra del Señor". Por ejemplo, el salmista bíblico, dice "tus palabras son espíritu y vida". Del mismo modo, el Evangelio describe la escena en Nazaret del servicio de la sinagoga, que fue el precursor histórico de nuestra propia "Liturgia de la Palabra" en la misa. El Evangelio de Lucas describe que, después de leer de la rúbrica de la Sagrada Escritura, Jesús se sentó y dijo: "hoy, este pasaje de la Escritura se cumple en sus oídos." Él procedió a dar una "homilía".

En cada liturgia, es extremadamente importante para nosotros sumergirnos en el "espíritu y vida" que fluyen de la Palabra eficaz de Dios en la Sagrada Escritura. Para hacerlo de manera efectiva, debemos escuchar con atención reverente y preguntarnos a nosotros mismos: "¿qué está tratando de decirnos Dios en este pasaje? ¿Qué está tratando de decirme Dios hoy para que mi vida pueda enriquecerse con sus santas inspiraciones y sabiduría? "De hecho, toda la primera parte de la misa se trata de "la Palabra" y su significado para nuestras vidas. Por lo tanto, abramos nuestros oídos a su Palabra salvadora y hagamos que nuestros corazones le den una bienvenida.

Cada fin de semana es una oportunidad de oro para que nuestras mentes y corazones se eleven a un encuentro mayor y sublime con la Palabra de Dios transformadora. Nuestra Liturgia de la Palabra comienza con una selección de las Escrituras Hebreas, el "Antiguo Testamento". No hay nada antiguo ni anticuado al respecto. Está lleno de la escritura eterna del encuentro de Dios con su pueblo y su plan para su salvación. A la Primera Lectura le sigue un salmo responsorial cantado. Cantar, como dijo san Agustín una vez, es "rezar dos veces". ¡El Salmo y su valor no se pueden perder! Debe ser escuchado, rezado y cantado bien. Nos ayudará a prepararnos para nuestra Segunda Lectura, tomada de las Escrituras Cristianas, el "Nuevo Testamento". Normalmente tomada de las Epístolas Paulinas o Pastorales, la Segunda Lectura es una exhortación a la comunidad cristiana primitiva con respecto a la experiencia vivida de la vida cristiana. Las enseñanzas que contienen son muy instructivas para nuestro caminar diario como seguidores de Jesús. Nos educan, nos aclaran y nos desafían en nuestro peregrinaje de la fe. Después de la aclamación del Evangelio, a menudo el "Aleluya", nos paramos dispuestos a reconocer la presencia única de Cristo en el Evangelio proclamado de nuestra salvación. De esta fuente fundamental, aprendemos de la vida de Jesús y sus palabras y ejemplo directos. Dios habla a los hombres y mujeres con las palabras de hombres y mujeres, lo que nos permite escuchar y entender el plan de Dios para nosotros, y cómo nuestras vidas debe basarse en Dios y guiarnos más cerca de Dios, incluso por toda la eternidad. No es de extrañar que concluyamos la lectura del Evangelio diciendo: "¡Te alabamos, Señor!"

Nosotros, los católicos, apreciamos enormemente el privilegio de resaltar la Palabra de Dios en cada Santa Misa. La primera mitad completa de nuestros ritos sagrados está dedicada a la Palabra de Dios de las Escrituras. ¿Por qué? Porque así como Jesús es la Palabra hecha carne, también creemos que en las Escrituras tenemos la Palabra hecha texto. Su poder para inspirarnos, cambiarnos y transformarnos, y dar paso a nuestra salvación es eficaz y siempre nueva. La Palabra de Dios nunca se agotará, no importa cuántas veces la escuchemos. Siempre nos trae "espíritu y vida".

Todo señala a Jesús como el cumplimiento del plan de Dios para la vida del mundo. Cuando escuchamos su Palabra con reverencia y atención, y actuamos de acuerdo con ella, permitimos que se inculque en nosotros. Se supone que debemos llevarla con nosotros en nuestra vida diaria. Casi podemos escuchar a Jesús decirnos directamente, "si escuchas mis palabras y las guardas fielmente, serás mis discípulos, radiantes para que todos lo vean". Esto podría incluso ser parte de la "realización" que habla Jesús. Que, por lo tanto, encontremos realización en Cristo y en Su Palabra.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR WYD PILGRIMS - JORGE SANTIBÁÑEZ DRE

As you read this message throughout the day on Sunday, we'll be wrapping up our World Youth Day experience in Panama and are preparing to make our way back home on Monday. I pray you've all been able to follow along with some of the stories being published by the Archdiocese and that you'll soon be able to hear directly from our pilgrims upon our return. Over the past several days, alongside hundreds of thousands of Catholic youth from all around the world, we were blessed to enjoy the grandest experience of "Church" there is! The beauty of WYD is that it's not about seeing or hearing from the Pope, it's not about any particular Bishop preaching or teaching, it's not about getting to hear from some of the most popular Catholic recording artists live, and it's not even really about any of us pilgrims. Simply put, World Youth Day is about JOY - the JOY of the GOSPEL!

Did we get to see and hear from and pray with our Holy Father? Yes - and it was incredible to have him, the Vicar of Christ, lead us in the Stations of the Cross, in Adoration and Benediction, and in the celebration of the Eucharist! Did we get to participate in catechetical sessions led by some of our most well-known and beloved Cardinals and Bishops? Yes, and it's a faith-learning experience we won't soon forget! Were we uplifted and inspired by Catholic artists, both locals like EPIC the Band and international recording artists like Matt Maher? Yes, and there's really nothing quite like praising and worshipping the Lord in a crowd a few hundred thousand strong!

As you soon hear again from our young pilgrims, they are sure to share some of these incredible highlights, but what we'll remember and cherish most deeply is simply the JOY of being Catholic: The excitement of joining pilgrims from all around the world to celebrate the ONE faith that unites and bonds us all. The thrill of walking up and down the streets of Panama City, at any hour of the day, dancing, singing, chanting and praying in various languages, known and unknown, and witnessing others do the same, knowing they can't do that when they return home without risking their lives. The profound beauty of kneeling in absolute silence, in a crowd of one million young people, as the Blessed Sacrament is worshipped and adored. Exchanging the Sign of Peace and sharing in Holy Communion with those the world so often wants us to label as "other" or "enemy." Yes, WYD is a life-changing encounter with Christ and His Church; It's a taste of life lived in the abundant and infectious joy of the Gospel!
