FROM THE DESK OF FATHER DAVIS

Each time we have been to the Holy Land, our pilgrimage group has had the blessed opportunity to visit the Mount of Beatitudes. Its pristine landscape, along the hillside which cascades down toward the Sea of Galilee, provides a breath-taking view of beauty and nature in full array. Without question, the ambience naturally contains the experience of peaceful stillness, calm, and serenity. It's actually difficult not to breathe in the graces of being in such a holy and tranquil place. That Galilean hillside is always the location of one of the inspiring Masses, which we celebrate outdoors in the open air with a view to rival all settings. It was in this context, according to Saint Matthew, that Jesus fed the 5,000 and gave his famous "Sermon on the Mount." This weekend's Gospel selection, however, is the Lucan version, somewhat of a recapitulation or "sum-up" of the Matthean account. Saint Luke, as you can tell, is even more poignant and direct regarding the implications of some of our Lord's original statements that day. With the people's stomachs satiated and their minds in a state of ease, Jesus directed words to them that sought to nurture their souls, presenting them a message which at first glance seemed difficult to grasp, but intuitively deeply resonated within them. On that occasion, Jesus sought to turn conventional wisdom on its head and usher in an era of hope and trust in the God who has life's ultimate word. Seated on the rock ledge that day, speaking to thousands of hearers, our Lord appealed to their spiritual imaginations and the deepest longings of their souls. The teaching Christ invited his hearers to experience blessedness. He invites us to do the same again today.

You will notice in today's Gospel there are only four beatitudes mentioned: blessed are you who are poor; blessed are you who are now hungry; blessed are you who are now weeping; blessed are you when people hate you, exclude you, insult you, and denounce you. Each of these statements begins with the tone-setting word "blessed." Roget's International Thesaurus captures a bit of the sentiment of this important word, which in many ways is the interpretative key and goal of Jesus' instructions that day, surely fostering hope in the hearts of the people, and a greater trust in God's providence. The secular synonyms for the word "beatitude" or "blessed" are happiness, contentment, delectation, satisfaction, peace of mind, composure, well-being, felicity, joyfulness, fulfillment, blessedness, and beatitude. If we are honest about it, any of these words would probably serve as a welcome antidote to the hurt, and heaviness of heart of anyone who has ever endured suffering or lack of acceptance. They are certainly antonyms for the aggression, divisiveness, and waywardness of our contemporary culture, not to mention the evidences of godless selfishness in our modern day.

So many of us have felt need at some point in our lives. So many of us have had deep longings and hungers that long for fulfillment. So many of us have felt grief and the great emotion of a broken human heart. So many of us have felt rejection in our homes, among our classmates, our so-called friends, or social circles. So many of us have even been maligned (perhaps by family, let alone politicians) for holding the tenets of our treasured Catholic faith as the guiding principles of our daily lives. Anti-Catholicism, indeed, looms large in our contemporary civic society and culture. If we allow them, so many things in modern life can rob us of the inner peace which we all so desperately seek. We need to be reminded that God has the final and ultimate word on the meaning of life. We embarrass ourselves when we pridefully think that we have it "all together," while simultaneously there are so many things on the Lord's "to-do" list. Pride, miserly self-sufficiency, personal arrogance, classism and having a superiority complex are spiritual toxins that blind our eyes to the agenda of the Gospel, and the ultimate meaning of life.

Against the social mores of the day which intrude on our God-given dignity and self-worth, may we find calm, peaceful stillness, tranquility, and yes, "blessedness" by cultivating a deep hope and trust in the providence of our merciful and loving God, who alone has the final word.

DEL ESCRITORIO DEL PADRE DAVIS

Cada vez que hemos estado en Tierra Santa, nuestro grupo de peregrinación ha tenido la oportunidad bendita de visitar el Monte de las Bienaventuranzas. Su paisaje prístino, a lo largo de la ladera que desciende en cascada hacia el Mar de Galilea, ofrece una vista impresionante de la belleza y la naturaleza en toda su extensión. Sin lugar a dudas, el ambiente naturalmente contiene la experiencia de una tranquilidad quieta, calma y serena. En realidad, es difícil no respirar las gracias de estar en un lugar tan santo y tranquilo. Esa ladera de Galilea es siempre la ubicación de una de las Misas inspiradoras, que celebramos afuera al aire libre con una vista que compite con cualquiera otra. Fue en este contexto, según San Mateo, que Jesús alimentó a los 5,000 y dio su famoso "Sermón de la Montaña". Sin embargo, la selección del Evangelio de este fin de semana es la versión de Lucas, algo así como una recapitulación o "resumen" de la versión de Mateo. Como pueden ver, San Lucas es aún más conmovedor y directo con respecto a las implicaciones de algunas de las declaraciones originales de nuestro Señor ese día. Con los estómagos de la gente ya saciados y sus mentes en un estado de tranquilidad, Jesús les dijo palabras que buscaban nutrir sus almas, presentándoles un mensaje que a primera vista parecía difícil de captar, pero intuitivamente resonaba profundamente dentro de ellos. En esa ocasión, Jesús buscó cambiar la sabiduría convencional e iniciar una era de esperanza y confianza en el Dios que tiene la palabra fundamental de la vida. Sentados en la cornisa de la roca ese día, hablando a miles de oyentes, nuestro Señor apeló a su imaginación espiritual y los anhelos más profundos de sus almas. La enseñanza de Cristo invitó a sus oyentes a experimentar las bienaventuranzas. Hoy nos invita a hacer lo mismo otra vez.

Notarán que en el Evangelio de hoy solo se mencionan cuatro bienaventuranzas: bienaventurados sean los pobres; bienaventurados sean los que tienen hambre; bienaventurados sean los que lloran; bienaventurado sean cuando las personas te odian, te excluyen, te insultan y te denuncian. Cada una de estas declaraciones comienza con la palabra que establece el tono "bendito". El Tesoro Internacional de Roget capta un poco el sentimiento de esta palabra importante, que en muchos sentidos es la clave y el objetivo interpretativo de las instrucciones de Jesús ese día, seguramente fomentando la esperanza en los corazones del pueblo, y una confianza mayor en la providencia de Dios. Los sinónimos seculares para la palabra "beatitud" o "bendito" son felicidad, gozo, deleite, satisfacción, paz mental, compostura, bienestar, felicidad, alegría, plenitud, bienaventuranza y beatitud. Si somos honestos al respecto, cualquiera de estas palabras probablemente serviría como un antídoto bienvenido para el dolor y la pesadez del corazón de cualquiera que haya pasado alguna vez por sufrimiento o la falta de aceptación. Ciertamente, son antónimos de la agresión, la división y el descarrío de nuestra cultura contemporánea, sin mencionar las evidencias del egoísmo impío en nuestros días modernos.

Muchos de nosotros hemos sentido necesidad en algún momento en nuestras vidas. Muchos de nosotros hemos tenido anhelos y necesidades profundas que ansían su realización. Muchos de nosotros hemos sentido dolor y la sensación de un corazón roto. Muchos de nosotros hemos sentido el rechazo en nuestros hogares, entre nuestros compañeros de clase, entre nuestros llamados amigos o entre nuestros círculos sociales. Muchos de nosotros incluso hemos sido difamados (quizás por la familia, y mucho más por políticos) por mantener los principios de nuestra atesorada fe católica como los principios que guían nuestra vida cotidiana. De hecho, el anticatolicismo ocupa un lugar preponderante en nuestra sociedad y cultura cívica contemporánea. Si lo permitimos, muchas cosas en la vida moderna pueden robarnos la paz interior que todos buscamos tan desesperadamente. Necesitamos que se nos recuerde que Dios tiene la última y definitiva palabra sobre el significado de la vida. Nos avergonzamos cuando pensamos con orgullo que lo tenemos "todo", mientras que al mismo tiempo hay tantas cosas en la lista de "cosas por hacer" del Señor. Orgullo, autosuficiencia miserable, arrogancia personal, clasismo y un complejo de superioridad son toxinas espirituales que ciegan nuestros ojos a la agenda del Evangelio y al significado final de la vida.

En contra de las costumbres sociales del día que se entrometen en nuestra dignidad y autoestima dada por Dios, que podamos encontrar calma, paz, tranquilidad y sí, "bienaventuranza" al cultivar una esperanza profunda y una confianza en la providencia de nuestro Dios misericordioso y amado quien tiene la última palabra.

TOGETHER | JUNTOS

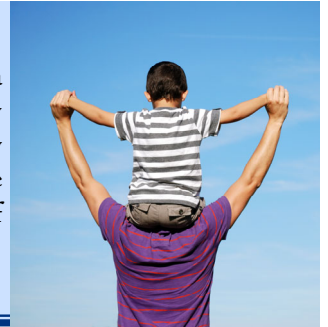

A SPAGHETTI DINNER TO RAISE FUNDS FOR THE CHRISTIANS IN THE HOLY LAND

Our local members of the Knights of the Holy Sepulcher are organizing an initiative to raise funds for the fledgling Catholic community in Jerusalem, which Father Davis will hand-deliver when he visits the bishop there next month. The Knights are organizing a spaghetti dinner on Sunday, March 24th, immediately following the 5:30pm Mass, in Comber Hall. More details on a modest donation are forthcoming. All are welcome.

FATHER-SON COMMUNION BREAKFAST

A new initiative, several months away, but worthy of mention now, is our plan to have a Father-Son Communion breakfast at Little Flower. The idea is that on June 15th, the day before Father's Day, all grandfathers, fathers and sons together, would come to a Saturday morning Mass at 8:00am, receive Communion together, and afterwards, enjoy a pancake breakfast together in Comber Hall, during which a motivational talk on the importance of the father-son relationship would be presented. More details are forthcoming.

HOLY LAND PRE-DEPARTURE MEETING

For those who are scheduled and confirmed to be on the March 29, 2019 pilgrimage to the Holy Land, there will be a "pre-Departure meeting" on Thursday, March 7th, at 7:30pm in Comber Hall. During this meeting Father Davis will distribute all travel information, the rooming list, plane e-tickets, hotel information, the final itinerary, and luggage bag tags. It will also be an opportunity to field any remaining questions as we prepare for our pilgrimage departure. See you on March 7th.

NEXT BUS TRIP BEING PLANNED

The parish is currently organizing a day-trip pilgrimage to visit Ave Maria University near Naples, Florida on Wednesday, May 22st (pending confirmation of date). To get your name on the list, please contact Jorge Perez at 305-446-9950, ext. 318.
