FROM THE DESK OF FATHER FLORES

It is an amazing moment in the Gospel. We know what is coming and we know where Judas is off to. We wonder what Jesus will say and/or do next. His response is to talk about the glorification that is to come. This glorification will be realized in his death on the cross and his resurrection. Through these events God will be glorified in Christ. And in this moment, Jesus wants to prepare his disciples for that reality and to command them to love one another.

The new commandment in this Gospel -- to love one another -- is arguably one of the more famous statements in the bible. Even folks who are not active participants in the church know this commandment or ones similar to it. But is it new? Hardly. Loving one another is part of Jewish tradition, is present in the Greco-Roman world around them, and is seen in other religious traditions as well.

Loving those with whom we agree or are partial to is the easy part. Loving the rest of the folks we meet is a much harder proposition. But this will not be news to those sitting in the pews of your church or next to you in Bible Study. It is a part of the human condition to love and to want to be loved. Reality is ... it's easier to love those who are more loving and lovable. It is said that St. John, in his old age, would remind those around him to love one another. When questioned why he told them this so very often, his reply would be, "Because it is what our Lord commanded. If it is all you do, then it is enough."

This text focuses on love but the justice part for many is that all of Jesus' disciples will be known by their love of others. For Jesus, love did not mean a sweet sentimental feeling. It meant action. It meant actively loving -- putting one's love into real world activities. This new commandment comes as part of a farewell address by Jesus to his followers. And he does this with a sense of tenderness and mercy.

He commands the disciples to love one another, but he also reminds them that they will continue to feel his presence even though he will not be with them. They will exhibit their discipleship by doing what he commands: by loving one another as he loved them. Here is an opportunity this week to talk about the requirement and justice of love. We so often draw lines about who we will love and who we will be tempted to cast in the role of "less loving" in our lives. This happens in the hearts and minds of both individuals -- and the church. An interesting thing to note in this text is that Jesus is reminding the disciples that they will be known to others by their acts of loving. We would do well to listen to this commandment. We also are called to love others as a mark of our own discipleship.

The way Jesus talks about loving each other is a precursor of the spread of Christianity. As he loved, and that love spread within his inner circle, so too will love spread after he is gone when love is done in his name. This act, to love others, is a distinguishing mark of the followers of Christ then and will continue to be now. Some would say that one of the weaknesses of the church today is the way many Christians do not embody this commandment -- or the others -- commanding his followers to love their neighbor.

Jesus makes plain his call to the disciples. "Let me give you a new command: Love one another. In the same way I loved you, you love one another. This is how everyone will recognize that you are my disciples -- when they see the love you have for each other".

Jesus was bold and clear then. How much clearer do we need Jesus to be for our own lives of discipleship now?

DEL ESCRITORIO DEL PADRE FLORES

Es un momento increíble en el evangelio. Sabemos lo que viene y sabemos a dónde va Judas. Nos preguntamos qué dirá o que hará Jesús a continuación. Su respuesta es hablar sobre la glorificación que está por venir. Esta glorificación se realizará en su muerte en la cruz y en su resurrección. A través de estos eventos Dios será glorificado en Cristo. Y en este momento, Jesús quiere preparar a sus discípulos para esa realidad y ordenarles que se amen unos a otros.

El nuevo mandamiento en este Evangelio, amarse unos a otros, es sin duda una de las declaraciones más famosas de la Biblia. Incluso las personas que no son participantes activos en la iglesia conocen este mandamiento o similares. ¿Pero es nuevo? Apenas. Amarse es parte de la tradición judía, está presente en el mundo grecorromano que los rodea y también se ve en otras tradiciones religiosas.

Amar a aquellos con quienes estamos de acuerdo o que somos parciales es la parte fácil. Amar al resto de la gente que conocemos es una propuesta mucho más difícil. Pero esto no es noticia para los que están sentados en los bancos de la iglesia o a los que están cerca de nosotros en las clases del Estudio de la Biblia. Es una parte de la condición humana amar y querer ser amado. La realidad es ... es más fácil amar a aquellos que son más amorosos y amables. Se dice que San Juan, en su vejez, recordaría a los que lo rodean que deberían amar a los demás. Cuando se le preguntó por qué les decía esto tan a menudo, su respuesta era: "Porque es lo que nuestro Señor ordenó. Si es todo lo que haces, entonces es suficiente."

Este texto se enfoca en el amor, pero la parte de justicia para muchos es que todos los discípulos de Jesús serán conocidos por su amor a los demás. Para Jesús, el amor no significaba un dulce sentimiento. Significaba acción. Significaba amar activamente, poner el amor de uno en actividades del mundo real. Este nuevo mandamiento viene como parte de un discurso de despedida de Jesús a sus seguidores. Y lo hace con ternura y piedad.

Les ordena a los discípulos que se amen unos a otros, pero también les recuerda que seguirán sintiendo su presencia, aunque no esté con ellos. Mostrarán su discipulado haciendo lo que él ordena: amándose unos a otros como él los ama. Aquí hay una oportunidad esta semana para hablar sobre el requisito y la justicia del amor. Muy a menudo trazamos líneas acerca de a quién amaremos y de quién nos veremos tentados a desempeñar el papel de "menos amoroso" en nuestras vidas. Esto sucede en los corazones y las mentes de ambos individuos, y de la iglesia. Una cosa interesante a tener en cuenta en este texto es que Jesús les está recordando a los discípulos que serán conocidos por los demás por sus actos de amor. Haríamos bien en escuchar este mandamiento. También estamos llamados a amar a los demás como una marca de nuestro propio discipulado.

La forma en que Jesús habla de amarse unos a otros es un precursor de la difusión del cristianismo. Como él amó, y ese amor se extendió dentro de su círculo interno, así también el amor se difundirá después de que él se haya ido cuando el amor se haga en su nombre. Este acto, para amar a los demás, es una marca distintiva de los seguidores de Cristo y lo seguirá siendo ahora. Algunos dirían que una de las debilidades de la iglesia hoy en día es la forma en que muchos cristianos no encarnan este mandamiento, o los otros, mandando a sus seguidores a amar al prójimo.

Jesús deja claro su llamado a los discípulos. "Les doy un mandamiento nuevo: que se amen los unos a los otros, como yo los he amado; y por este amor reconocerán todos que ustedes son mis discípulos". Jesús fue audaz y claro entonces. ¿Cuánto más claro necesitamos que Jesús sea para nuestras vidas de discipulado ahora?

MEN'S ENGLISH EMMAUS RETREAT

The Men's Emmaus Community invites all men in our community at large to join us at our upcoming spiritual retreat scheduled for the weekend of May 31- June 2. This weekend is meant for all of us to disconnect from all the distractions and preoccupations of daily life to fully concentrate on personal introspection and our relationship with God. We focus on sharing in community with like-minded men, from all walks of life, as we strive to grow in faith and get closer to the Lord.

"The worst thing that can happen is something good."

For more information or to register, please visit www.littlefloweremmaus.org

El grupo de hombres de Emaús invita a todos los hombres de nuestra comunidad a acompañarnos a nuestro próximo retiro espiritual programado para el fin de semana del 31 de mayo al 2 de junio. Este fin de semana es para que todos nos desconectemos de las distracciones y las preocupaciones de la vida y concentrarnos plenamente en la introspección personal y revisar nuestra relación con Dios. Nos enfocamos en compartir en comunidad con hombres afines, de todos los ámbitos de la vida, a medida que nos esforzamos por crecer en la fe y acercarnos al Señor.

"Lo peor que puede pasar es algo bueno."

FATHER-SON COMMUNION BREAKFAST

A new initiative worthy of mention is our plan to have a Father-Son Communion breakfast at Little Flower. The idea is that on June 15th, the day before Father's Day, all grandfathers, fathers and sons together, would come to a Saturday morning Mass at 8:00am, receive Communion together, and afterwards, enjoy a pancake breakfast together in Comber Hall, during which a motivational talk on the importance of the father-son relationship would be presented. Details coming soon!
