FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

My Dear Friends,

"So what happens now?" Last June, the Supreme Court finally overturned Roe v. Wade, a decision that so many of us had worked and prayed long and hard to see overturn. On this first Respect Life Sunday of a Post-Roe world, we can't help but ask the question, "what happens now?" Abortion did not disappear at the end of June nor did the culture that allows it, encourages it, and defends this evil practice (Buckle up, folks, it's going to be that kind of bulletin column and this issue is not one that I dare to carefully dance around as to not offend. Souls are at stake!). What happens now is that as a Church that labored for almost 50 years to see the day where Roe was no more, now has to step up to truly promote the culture of life and not just but by word but with concrete action. Before June, it was easy to write to our lawmakers, protest and pray in front of abortion clinics, and march to the Supreme Court every January. And while many of these things may still be quite valid to do as we seek to change the culture, as a Church we must be ready to accompany women, accompany families not only during pregnancy, but throughout the life of a child.

Archbishop William Lori, the Chairman of the U.S. Bishop's Pro-Life Committee, recently released a statement titled, "Building a Culture of Life in a Post-Roe World." In this statement, he calls us to action:

In a post-Roe world, then, we must shift the paradigm to what Saint Pope John Paul II described as "radical solidarity," making the good of others our own good, including especially mothers, babies (born and preborn), and families throughout the entire human lifespan. It is a call to friendship and compassion rooted in the truth that we are made to love our neighbor as ourselves.

We do this not by demonizing those who disagree with us, but by engaging with them and finding common ground. Archbishop Lori continues:

Our nation is in desperate need of healing from the toxic polarization and anger that has poisoned so much of our politics in recent years. A paradigm shift from an abandonment of women masquerading as freedom to radical solidarity can open the way to a new politics. Those who disagree on the morality or justice of abortion should nonetheless come together to pursue common-ground solutions to provide care and support to mothers, children, and families in need. Public officials can stake out new ground, to move beyond the political divisions of Left and Right and build a new coalition of people of good will that will focus on the best outcomes for those in need by whatever means—public or private—that prove to be most effective.

Life must be respected from the moment of conception to natural death. Yes, this includes respecting the homeless, caring for the immigrant, and working for the abolition of the death penalty as our Holy Father asked us to pray during the month of September. As Archbishop Wenski likes to say, as Catholics, when we line all these issues up, we may find ourselves orphans in any political party. But respecting life in all its forms transcends politics. As a Church, we must accompany the mother or family with an unexpected pregnancy beyond birth, take in the immigrant (as many of us were once taken in), feed the homeless, and cry out in opposition when someone is sentenced to death.

Yes, it is indeed a new world after Roe was struck down. Now the real work begins. In two weeks, we have the return of our annual Respect Life Brunch sponsored by our Pro-Life Ministry and the Knights of Columbus to aid our Catholic Crisis Pregnancy Centers that need our help now more than ever. Catholic Charities continues to assist the thousands of migrants who keep coming to our Archdiocese. They need our support. And any time a human being, no matter how heinous his or her crimes, is sentenced to death, we must remember that only God gives and takes away life. Life must be respected from the moment of conception to natural death.

I told you it was going to be that kind of bulletin column, but with all the political toxicity in the air as we approach the midterm elections next month, it would have been a dereliction of duty as your pastor to just write "niceties" and not guide you to the resources necessary to keep working towards St. John Paul II's "Culture of Life." While a victory was won last June, our prayers and work to defend life should not cease. Please read the resources below, and above all, pray for an end to all forms of violence against the human person: born and unborn. Our work as a Church has truly just begun.

God bless you all,

Archbishop Lori's
Post-Roe Statement

Consciences

DEL ESCRITORIO DEL PÁRROCO

Mis Queridos Amigos,

"Entonces, ¿qué pasa ahora?" En junio pasado, la Corte Suprema finalmente revocó Roe v. Wade, una decisión que muchos de nosotros habíamos trabajado y orado mucho y duro para ver un cambio. En este primer Domingo de Respeto a la Vida de un mundo Post-Roe, no podemos evitar hacer la pregunta: "¿Qué pasa ahora?" El aborto no desapareció a finales de junio ni la cultura que lo permite, lo fomenta y defiende esta mala práctica (abróchense el cinturón, amigos, va a ser ese tipo de columna de boletín y este tema no es uno que me atreva a mover cuidadosamente para no ofender. ¡Las almas están en juego!). Lo que sucede ahora es que como Iglesia que trabajó durante casi 50 años para ver el día en que Roe ya no existiera, ahora tiene que dar un paso adelante para promover verdaderamente la cultura de la vida y no solo con palabras, sino con acciones concretas. Antes de junio, era fácil escribir a nuestros legisladores, protestar y orar frente a las clínicas de aborto, y marchar en la Corte Suprema cada enero. Y si bien muchas de estas cosas todavía pueden ser bastante válidas para hacer mientras buscamos cambiar la cultura, como Iglesia debemos estar listos para acompañar a las mujeres, acompañar a las familias no solo durante el embarazo, sino durante toda la vida de un niño.

El arzobispo William Lori, presidente del Comité Pro-Vida de los Obispos de los Estados Unidos, publicó recientemente una declaración titulada "Construyendo una Cultura de Vida en un Mundo Post-Roe". En esta declaración, nos llama a la acción:

En un mundo post-Roe, entonces, debemos cambiar el paradigma a lo que el Santo Papa Juan Pablo II describió como "solidaridad radical", haciendo del bien de los demás nuestro propio bien, incluidas especialmente las madres, los bebés (nacidos y antes de nacer) y las familias a lo largo de toda la vida humana. Es un llamado a la amistad y la compasión arraigada en la verdad de que estamos hechos para amar a nuestro prójimo como a nosotros mismos.

Hacemos esto no demonizando a aquellos que no están de acuerdo con nosotros, sino comprometiéndonos con ellos y encontrando un terreno en común. El arzobispo Lori continúa:

Nuestra nación necesita desesperadamente sanar de la polarización tóxica y la ira que ha envenenado gran parte de nuestra política en los últimos años. Un cambio de paradigma de un abandono de las mujeres disfrazadas de libertad a la solidaridad radical puede abrir el camino a una nueva política. Sin embargo, aquellos que no están de acuerdo con la moralidad o la justicia del aborto deben unirse para buscar soluciones comunes para brindar atención y apoyo a las madres, los niños y las familias necesitadas. Los funcionarios públicos pueden replantear un terreno nuevo, para ir más allá de las divisiones políticas de izquierda y derecha y construir una coalición nueva de personas de buena voluntad que se concentrará en los mejores resultados para los necesitados por cualquier medio, público o privado, que demuestre ser más efectivo.

La vida debe ser respetada desde el momento de la concepción hasta la muerte natural. Sí, esto incluye respetar a las personas sin hogar, cuidar al inmigrante y trabajar por la abolición de la pena de muerte como nuestro Santo Padre nos pidió que oráramos durante el mes de septiembre. Como le gusta decir al arzobispo Wenski, como católicos, cuando alineamos todos estos temas, podemos encontrarnos huérfanos en cualquier partido político. Pero respetar la vida en todas sus formas trasciende la política. Como Iglesia, debemos acompañar a la madre o a la familia con un embarazo inesperado más allá del nacimiento, acoger al inmigrante (como muchos de nosotros alguna vez fuimos acogidos), alimentar a las personas sin hogar y gritar cuando alguien está siendo ejecutado justa o injustamente.

Sí, de hecho, es un mundo nuevo después de que Roe fue derribado. Ahora comienza el trabajo verdadero. En dos semanas, tenemos el regreso de nuestro Brunch anual de Respeto a la Vida patrocinado por nuestro Ministerio Pro-Vida y Caballeros de Colón para ayudar a nuestros Centros Católicos de Crisis de Embarazo que necesitan de nuestra ayuda ahora más que nunca. Caridades Católicas continúa ayudando a los miles de migrantes que siguen llegando a nuestra Arquidiócesis. Necesitan nuestro apoyo. Y cada vez que un ser humano, no importa cuán atroces sean sus crímenes, es sentenciado a muerte, debemos recordar que solo Dios da y quita la vida. La vida debe ser respetada desde el momento de la concepción hasta la muerte natural.

Les dije que iba a ser ese tipo de columna de boletín, pero con toda la toxicidad política en el aire a medida que nos acercamos a las elecciones de mitad de período el próximo mes, habría sido una negligencia del deber como su párroco simplemente escribir "sutilezas" y no guiarlos a los recursos necesarios para seguir trabajando hacia la "Cultura de la Vida" de San Juan Pablo II. Si bien se obtuvo una victoria en junio pasado, nuestras oraciones y trabajo para defender la vida no deben cesar. Por favor, lean los recursos a continuación, y, sobre todo, oren por el fin de todas las formas de violencia contra la persona humana: nacidos y no nacidos. Nuestro trabajo como Iglesia realmente acaba de comenzar.

Que Dios los bendiga a todos,

Declaración post Roe del arzobispo Lori

SOUND SYSTEM UPGRADES COMING SOON

We are aware of some problems with the speaker/sound system inside the church and are happy to share that system upgrades are now underway!

Our maintenance team is currently installing new exterior conduits which will allow us to run brand new cabling, replacing the existing older speaker cables which are buried deep underneath the marble floors.

The new cables, coupled with the addition of extra speakers and upgrades to our amplifiers and sound processors will provide a much clearer transmission of sound throughout the nave of the church.

We appreciate your patience over the last few months as we worked to identify the problem and address it with the best possible solution. While many of the parts have already arrived, the last few components are still on backorder. It is our hope to have the sound system upgrades completed sometime in October.
